OWe will also walk to the remnants of the fortress of economy New Landau and "Nikolaevsky stonehenge" - Yuzhnobug cromlech (a cult building of the 5-6th century BC). The road lies between the rocks to the mouth of the Kamenka river, and after that we will go to the Romanesque (Roman) threshold, where we will stop for lunch. After lunch, we will explore the ruins of the border fortress Strannitsa - this is the name of the border post of the Zaporozhye Cossacks. Now only a few dozen stones and an ancient road leading to the lower reaches of the Southern Bug have been preserved here. National Historical and Archaeological Reserve "Olvid"

National Historical and Archaeological Reserve "Olvia"

The National Historical and Archaeological Reserve "Olvia" began work in 1926. The city-state of Olbia was founded by the Greeks in the 6th century BC and existed for a thousand years. Ther e are still references to him in the works of Herodotus. Officially, the city was called Olbia, although some ancient authors have a different name - Borisfen. This is probably due to the proximity of the settlement to the Dnieper, which the Greeks called Borisfen. The reserve received national status in 2002 and covers an area of 300 hectares. History of the reserve Academician Petr Pallas and writer Pavel Sumarokov at the end of the 18th century proved that the settlement on the right bank of the Bug es tuary is the remains of the city of Olvia. The first studies of the settlement were carried out in 1848-1853 under the leadership of A. Uvarov. However, systematic excavations began only in the 20th century. Scientists from Bulgaria, England and Poland als o came to study Olbia. What to see in the reserve On the territory of the historical and archaeological reserve you can see such interesting places: Settlement, which consisted of an upper, terraced and lower city.

Wakeboarding or wakeboarding (often just wake, from the English wakeboard: wake - wake, board - board) is an extreme sport that combines elements of water ski slalom, acrobatics and jumping. Wakeboarding has similarities to snowboarding, skateboarding and surfing. One of the developing sports and recreation.

There are two disciplines in wakeboarding: wakeboard boat and wakeboard electric traction (cable wakeboarding). In boat wakeboarding, an athlete rides after the boat, holding on to the halyard, and performs various tricks using a running wave and springboards.

The National Historical and Archaeological Reserve "Kamennaya Mogild"

Stone grave in the Melitopol region

The National Historical and Archaeological Reserve "Kamennaya Mogila" is a unique place in terms of the history of architecture and culture. The sandstone hill, contrary to its name, has a natural origin: a huge pile of stones up to 12 meters high and with a total area of 30 thousand square meters appeared as a result of water and air erosion, due to which a huge mass of sandstone split into many pieces of various sizes and shapes.

On many stones you can see ancient drawings - petroglyphs. They are well preserved because they were carved with harder stones. Interestingly, this place combines drawings dating from different eras - from the Paleolithic to the Middle Ages. Many legends are associated with the origin of the "Stone Tomb". According to one of them, it was formed due to the fact that the bogatyr Bogur, who was guilty before Allah, during the execution of punishment, drove the mountain, pulling stones from the mountain ridge. But, wishing to outsmart God, the hero made the stones loose and eventually fell into one of the cracks formed. There he died of hunger, and the wind covered Bogur's body with sand, which is still kept between the stones.
